DOLLARS AND SENSE

It's simple. We establish a base price for each item that includes all expenses (set-up, hosting, fulfillment and even customer service). You set the retail price & we remit everything in-between back to you on a quarterly basis (with an detailed royalty payment sales report).

We have two founders, one with promotional products background, the other a software entrepreneur. Our objective was simple: create an ecommerce platform that eliminated all out of pocket expense for store set-up and maintenance while increasing flexibility & marketing control.

We developed a mobile-first shopping platform with today's most advanced technology and fulfillment partners.
